

They say that entrepreneurship is an uphill winding path full of failures and meant not for the faint-hearted. I guess I will be fine with some indie music and a box of mints.....